AL172 SIMULATOR SUCCESSFULLY INSTALLED AT BANYUWANGI PILOT SCHOOL

News / Maintenance / Trainings

Alsim is very pleased to announce that an AL172 simulator has been installed at the Banyuwangi Pilot School, East Java, Indonesia. The school signed for it at the end of last year. Dedicated to PPL & IR training, this simulator, developed in 2017, is an exact replica of the Cessna 172 SP Skyhawk NAVIII. It features G1000 avionics and is equipped with the Alsim High Definition Visual System.

The school already signed for an AL250 last year, the 1st of its kind in the country. Last year, Alsim successfully sold over twenty of these simulators worldwide.
The Banyuwangi Pilot School began operations towards the end of 2013 and have graduated around 100 students since. Currently the school has around 100 students with more to come.

Mrs Audrey Jeffroy, Alsim's Sales Director, explains: "We are very pleased to work with the Banyuwangi Pilot School and contribute to their student's excellent training with our latest AL250 & AL172 simulators. They renewed their confidence in buying another
