STS A01 AMPHIBIAN JET: AN EXPERIMENTAL SCI-FI CONCEPT AIRCRAFT BY RENE GABRIELLI

News / Manufacturer

STS A01 is a “SCI-FI” based project, focusing on design ideas used in movies and video games industries. The name STS stands for “Sea To Space”, while A01 is a shortcut for Amphibian 01, which means that this vehicle can travel over land, air, and water. It can be used underwater as a submarine, then take off as aircraft and head to the space as a spacecraft.

With eyes on futuristic design, interesting, and visually appealing outputs, the whole project includes a big amount of movie “visual effects” especially used in 3d renderings and animations. This project wants to show you possibilities to create and place emotions to observers, it gives you a visual experience through atmospheric environments, lights, design, styles, and other fields.

The concept of futuristic STS A01 aircraft was designed with inspiration from cars, movies, and video games. The main design has been adjusted to meet the idea of a “concept art”, a cool amphibian vehicle that offers you a whole new look on design forms, shapes, and overall results as combination of modern technologies and progressive thinking in this industry.
