News / Business aviation

Best Private Jet Charter Brokers Guide is the first guide of its kind to evaluate the unregulated market of middlemen through the lens of professionalism, transparency and third-party reviews. In an industry with over 3,000 brokers, leading independent authority on private jet travel Private Jet Card Comparisons evaluated ARGUS and Wyvern certification and registrations, along with Trustpilot, Facebook, Glassdoor and Better Business Bureau ratings and reviews, plus proprietary research to curate a list of less than 100 top air charter brokerages.

"With issues of illegal charters and unqualified pilots combined with a lack of regulation governing who can sell private charter flights, we wanted to provide a defined and unbiased guide that narrows down the list to companies that have shown higher than required standards of professionalism," said Doug Gollan, founder and editor-in-chief of Private Jet Card Comparisons.

The Best Private Jet Charter Brokers Guide is comprised of companies in the Private Jet Card Comparisons database that sell on-demand charter, as well as companies that have been certified or registered by Wyvern and ARGUS, and floating fleet operators that sell charters on a national and international basis. Jet card brokers have completed a 65-point checklist with policies, including standards for sourcing aircraft, minimum pilot qualifications, and ownership overview, including name of the CEO.

Other guides either feature thousands of providers and little to no criteria regarding professional standards, or serve as lead generators who make commissions on sales. Conversely, Private Jet Card Comparisons serves the consumer of private aviation as a an independent service for the benefit of its paid subscribers by providing them with the necessary information to compare more than 300 jet card programs across 65+ variables. Subscribers who pay $250 annually for access also receive the guide's "Quick Compare Flight Pricing for Jet Cards" as well as "VIP Jet Card Decider," both of which offer subscribers personalized assistance in selecting the jet card programs that best align with their individual needs.

"We understand that for some subscribers, jet cards aren't the best fit, or they are part of the mix, so by adding the Best Private Jet Charter Brokers Guide it makes our service even more comprehensive and valuable," said Gollan.
